WHAT HAPPENED?
Correcting my video
I want to correct
THIS IS A MESS..
What really happened to JuniDrawz and Yummicactus // The missing contexts and coverup, thanks dippy

!!!DISCLAIMER: MENTIONS OF RAPE, NECROPHILIA, SELF HARM, NAZISM!!!

Side notes:

(This is the raw true context. Anything that is displayed, we take accountability for-instead of placing the blame on others…)

Everything is censored accordingly besides Juni and Yummi's gore art + swastikas.

Juni is 16, the person he had convinced to relapse (Mason) is also 16. Yummi is 17, Dippy is 17, I am 17 (Brandon) So they can't make the excuse that we are "so much older."

Providing context to the Nazi Related Subjects:

Below is because I got grooming allegations without any basis in my own server once (which had been cleared and talked through with already), and at the same time Juni and Yummi were being faced with Nazi allegations, and I thought that it was ironic so I went into a VC with them and I drew myself as a Nazi to make fun of the whole situation and also make fun of Juni and Yummi's situation too. They found it entirely funny and laughed along with it, since they had made me desensitized to jokes like that beforehand. After that drawing I never drew a nazi again, (yummi let it be known to me that it was inaccurately drawn and went into his drawing app to "fix it" for me,, I had no clue what nazi uniforms even look like and I just did it to try and cheer them up) notice how they have drawn it multiple times and I have only once? It's horrible I even did it in the first place and I will never do it again, don't get the wrong idea here, they have repeated this time and time again. I'm glad they want to change, but them seeing others and I encouraged them is just straight up misconstruing the truth of what happened. There is nothing of solid evidence that shows we were encouraging them, but there is undeniable evidence they encouraged and pushed on the belief of relapsing and necrophilia to my friends.

People have been saying that I am a victim, but I do not believe that I am. I believe that they have hurt some of my friends, but I am not one of those. Everything we joked about was consensually agreed upon and my friend who spread these messages to the group of people assumed that. (off track, but still important) I'm more upset at the fact Juni is saying I doxxed him, when I haven't the slightest clue where he even lives, and I wasn't the one who even sent his self harm, it was one of my friends involved who sent it to the people as evidence for the self harm group chat even existing. I don't agree with how this was handled at all, and I'm so frustrated at just everybody involved really. I hope Juni and Yummi smoothly explain this and everyone can move on, but this is so awful and I have talked to my friends about how mad I am at them. Seriously.

Below is when me and them joined a server that my friend was in and saw it had insane emojis, a handful of them being an aryan pony named "aryanne" we all thought was completely absurd so I googled it and then I saw Yummi drawing himself doing a salute in the corner and took a screenshot of it and sent it into our old groupchat, this is not encouragement. I did not encourage him to draw himself saluting. He did this by his own volition. (I frequently would send this pony because of how stupid a concept it was to me)

Below is when the cupidite situation was an ongoing thing and i said it reminded me of an image where a jewish person and a nazi meet on omegle and got along despite being completely different from one another (because on call we were talking about how we wish dramas could just be solved by playing roblox arsenal and whoever dies first wins the drama) I sent the crappy doodle and he laughed at it and was completely fine with it, we both were. This is also not encouraging any bad behavior. If anyone says otherwise they can message me @dippystik on discord, I just want to clear up any confusion and keep an open mind as always.

Providing context to the Necro Related Subjects:

Below is the art I had drawn. Necro x normal me was another art challenge that they gave me to draw, and yes I will admit it I did draw it (duh its right there) and I have no other excuse, I drew it and I realized it was wrong (posted the same date as the necro yummi art) if it's worth anything, I drew myself actively uncomfortable by it since that is how I also felt at the moment. They drew it in a serious manner, my drawings were never in a serious manner. This does not make it any better, but it gives some amount of context behind the art. I take full responsibility. (censor put there for the tent in its pants)

Below is me being uncertain about if the design was "tuff", at this point I was starting to become more uncomfortable/uneasy about the whole necrophilia art things, noted by how I said "I think…", Juni is an insanely skilled individual and I did actually like the art though despite the color pallet it was associated with. It is my fault for not saying anything to express my discomfort, I have a hard time confronting people about things, and I blame myself for this. This is not Juni's fault, please know this. If he tries to say that this is encouragement, this just doesn't make sense, there is no encouragement anywhere.

Below is an older screenshot of when I was okay with drawings of these natures, as seen by the date. The date is important here. The previous screenshot was further into the present, this one was 2 months in the past before that. It seems like a short time frame, but a lot can happen in a few months. I'm being honest, at the time I thought this was normal since I saw them drawing it all the time and I thought the art looked cool, because again, very skilled people. I thought it would be funny to post it and just delete it since that's the type of things that they found funny themselves, these people were the only true friends I felt comfortable around and then I obviously started feeling uncomfortable with all this stuff later down the line, as seen from the above screenshot. Again, not their fault, I'm providing context. Saying that this instance of me complementing their art is encouraging them to make more is just absurd to say, again, I'm open to criticism and feedback on my stance with this.

Below is a drawing that my friend had made when he (Brandon) was in psychosis, he does in no way, shape, or form, agree with anything he had done before he attempted to take his life. He is fine now, but had major amnesia when he came back from the hospital. He is mortified by what he drew and never has and never will make a drawing like this ever again. Anyone can come after me all they want, but going after a person who was the medical definition of mentally unstable and insane is completely fucked up. Criticize me not him. (censored is self harm and bloody meat) again, if its worth anything, he thought he was supposed to be drawing cannibalism too.. He didn't even understand what was going on. They were more drawing challenges from Juni and Yummi. (his name is censored with a red bar because it wont let me import the not-red-bar image for some reason, but it says "brado")

Below is when Yummi was expressing to me when we were on VC with my friends if he should "come out as a necrophile" I tried to say that people in my group were okay with it, my friend, Brandon, was in a horrible headspace at this time too, still in psychosis and yes, he regrets everything from before he healed and got better. My other two friends, who shall not be named, were fine with it (one at the time watching it themselves, but no longer does) and I just wanted Yummi to feel comfortable since we didn't want Yummi to feel excluded (Yummi himself was struggling with watching gore at this point too), he didn't have much friends he actually consistently talked to and got along with. I then responded with him saying that I didn't really care if he came out as one or not, since I thought he was joking anyways (which he was) and that was at that. Everyone was unhealthy at this point in time.

Providing context to the SH/gore(?) Related Subjects:

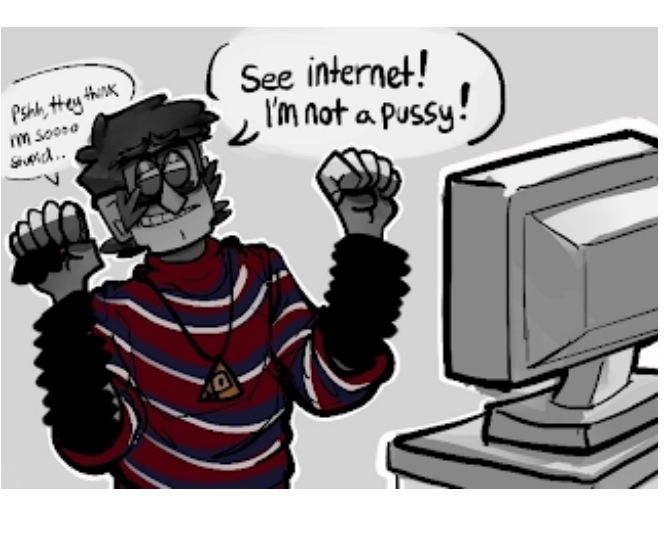
Below is art I made as a drawing challenge from them in which they gave me mocking the time I got "cancelled" on twitter for making lolcow stanford pines au, and I will say it was 100% agreed on by both parties that it was okay to draw and we laughed at it but I understand why it's weird, really, I do. (censored is major self harm and a blade in his hand with "4chan" cut into his left arm) I'm trying to be 100% transparent here. There isn't much more to say here.



See internet! I'm not a pussy!

I don't see anything wrong with this art but maybe my friends did? I do think the way Yummi draws blood is really interesting since I do like art and understanding how it works and how certain substances interact with its environment blah blah you know the gist. I don't know why this is in here since I don't think it was referenced from anything real life? unless it was and I just forgot. Nothing is wrong with this art, and my reaction doesn't seem problematic either.

Below is when we were in VC, eating food together (why I say noodles) and I showed Juni a website "Fatal to the Flesh" that is made by an experimentalist artist and coder, that is used to help people with self harm thoughts and as a second outlet, I like drawing on it occasionally. The website shows no gore, no genuine self harm, and nothing like that. The interface of the website is a blank canvas and depending on how hard you move your cursor, it makes red lines across your screen, some dripping if you go fast, he talks about its coding purposes here: https://vimeo.com/76541679 "Rafaël Rozendaal is a visual artist who uses the internet as his canvas. His work has been exhibited at MoMA, Times square, Centre Pompidou, LACMA. He lets people make what they will with his digital creations, and many people, such as myself, seek comfort in them. I gave it to Juni because I knew he was struggling himself with things such as that.

Providing context to the Unsavory jokes/miscellaneous Subjects:

Yes, I joked about rape, its something me and my friends joke about together since we are all victims and we are comfortable with saying it, its an inside joke especially with "rapemas" for personal reasons I wont get into that is related to other friends. We say it as a way to make light of our own situations. Everyone was comfortable with this being said.

Juni and Yummi both were comfortable with me saying this and they told me to make more variations of it, nobody is in the wrong for this especially not them two. We were just having private laughs with each other on VC and making fun of the fact people saw them as horrible people, so I said these. I don't know if I'm missing something but I don't understand why my old usernames are in here, nothing is wrong with them and it was just the way my username changed over time. I could care less about the jokes people make in private, as long as everybody is okay with it being said.

Forgot to state how juni seemed concerned about getting them in trouble even though they influenced and doxxed them, dippy had control over juni and exploited his attachment and care for him i told juni this could be considered grooming but juni doesn't know if it was still in disbelief he would ever do this

I had no control over Juni. There is no instance where I have "control". I do not force them to do things, I did not doxx them. I did not groom Juni. I never once exploited his attachment, and saying otherwise is a baseless claim to make me look worse.

if you really want to go in that direction, here.

Yummi states to Mason that he has no power dynamic, when he is a fairly decent sized online influencer and has a fan base always back behind him to defend him with their lives. They both knew Mason looked up to them too. They were well aware of that.

In VC a few hours passed and they wanted ME to look up questions for us to answer, they specifically asked for them to be personal and I obliged, I did try to suggest more lighthearted ones in VC by they themselves said that they "weren't fun enough" you can't go around saying that your video was "clearing up and adding context" when the people you speak to deliberately make the other party you're talking to seem worse by not saying important context because they know it will look bad on their side. It's not that hard to admit when you do something wrong. I have admitted multiple times in the document that I was wrong, and when no one was right, and when they were in the right.

Message @di...

Context:

My old server got raided and sent gore links in a raid and I got morbid curiosity to look at a few to see if they were real, and they were. I then went down a rabbithole of gore videos and expressed my bewilderment to Juni in DMs, I will post a gif of the full conversation. (blue chunky lines are censored gore links, so sorry if it still shows some of the link.) it is horrible I posted them in the first place, I have already said to Juni that I don't know why I sent it even though I explained it beforehand, but he forgave me and I profusely apologized over and over again (more recent).

I'm not trying to justify what I did, just tell what happened. It is clear that my messages are that of discomfort and absolutely mortified. I retold the time I saw a video of somebody killing themselves on a discord livestream, Juni wanted to see it, and I tried to find it for him since he asked. Still grotesque for me to do, but its context. I expressed disappointment when he said it was restricted because I knew he most likely had the same morbid curiosity as I did in that moment. I suggested Yummi stream it to him since I did not want to, since I was still very uncomfortable with the idea of gore. He asked where I found these and I just said Reddit. I showed some screenshots from inside the website since he couldn't see it. We decided to bring my friend Brandon into it since, especially me, was scared of Brandon committing suicide. He had expressed to me before that things like this make him not want to kill himself, I was so scared for him ending his life so I used this as an excuse. (he is 100% okay now and has received proper help for every aspect in his life) after the video was done and we all watched it, Juni expressed to me that Yummi was attracted to it, which I was told was because he was into it in the past already. I said I expected it because Yummi drew some fairly questionable things often. And then joked about Juni being cooked. We were all in shock of what we saw and tried to make light of it by making jokes of what we saw.

If it wasn't clear, nobody involved is aligned with their past beliefs, and that is something important that matters. I'm proud of everybody for healing.

Below is when Brandon later sent it to Juni because he has asked for it again on a VC:

Below is a screenshot of when I copy and pasted someone's entire pronounspage because I thought it was funny how absurdly long it was. I don't know why this is in here? Yummi laughed along with it and this doesn't push anything onto him in any way. It was me poking fun at somebody's website. Again, context is left out because of course it is. And I will admit I can't prove what I say either, but it makes a whole lot more sense than just slapping an out of context screenshot onto a YouTube video and calling it a day.

For better context, below is a screenshot of when me and my friends were in a VC before these messages were sent. My friend, Gi, was expressing his disgust for people who pleasure themselves to gore. Yummi was in VC before he got off and at the time I didn't want to make him feel excluded for his weird behavior because Juni had told me before how he loses all his friends. I will admit, Gi still did not accept him for this behavior even after I said to Yummi that Gi would be okay with it. That is my fault for not telling Yummi that my friend was grossed out by it.

I gain nothing, and they gain everything. (no, I will not be explaining any of the test results or showing them. I was 16 when I got those answers and the fact the video poster uncensored it and didn't think that was wrong is disgusting. If he is an adult that's even worse.)

You cannot be saying this when at the same time we are all around the same age range. I do not know what they told you, but the oldest person in my friend group is 18, and just barely. They have told me before in the past, when we were still friends, that they love to abuse their age, because they know they can get away with it, and that people will believe them for being a younger person. Why do you think they constantly push being "a mentally ill minor" in every situation? They have told me in the past that if I get into drama, I should just say that. But I am not like them, and don't want to be like them. Hence why I am not trying to defend myself for every single thing in here. I just aim to provide honest context.

If they would post their self harm just to win internet drama, what makes it so different that they would go as far as leaking their own nudes to pin it on us? They have stated to all of us that they completely fabricated Cupidite's fans doxxing them. We all can attest to this. And we know Juni will deny it no matter what. Nobody has your goddamn nudes. When confronted about it you deleted my friend's comment.

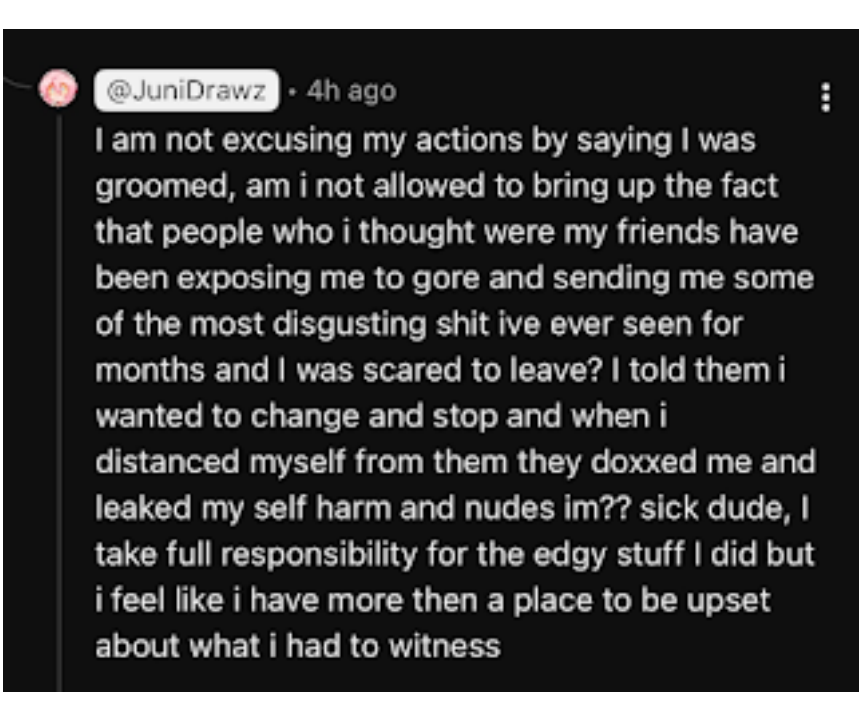
(image above has more context a few scrolls later)



@JuniDrawz · 4h ago

I am not excusing my actions by saying I was groomed, am i not allowed to bring up the fact that people who i thought were my friends have been exposing me to gore and sending me some of the most disgusting shit ive ever seen for months and I was scared to leave? I told them i wanted to change and stop and when i distanced myself from them they doxxed me and leaked my self harm and nudes im?? sick dude, I take full responsibility for the edgy stuff I did but i feel like i have more then a place to be upset about what i had to witness Juni and Yummi never tried to distance themselves from us. They stopped talking to us as frequently because WE distanced ourselves from THEM. Because WE were growing as people. They would message us saying that they missed us because we stopped talking to them as often, because we wanted to CHANGE.

Below is when he told me to keep up the lie to his server members that he was in a psychward, even if it got annoying, to gain more defense from the public:

They are the same age as my friend who they made relapse, which is 16. Yummi, Brandon, and I, are the same age, 17. You talk all high and mighty about giving justice to victims and how Juni and Yummi are just "children". And yet you refuse to acknowledge the fact that everybody was a kid in this situation. This video comes off as completely holier than thou. On your TikTok you stated that you called them once and now you trust them completely. And I have talked to them for almost more than a year. Do you really think that they would show their true colors to you? They don't do that. They have told me they don't do that.

By using your logic at hand, everybody in this whole situation is a child that needs to learn from their past actions. And I agree with this, that is true! I'm not saying that this isn't true, but if you want to be fair and equal to everyone, you have to apply this rhetoric to every single person involved. If not, that is having bias and being a complete hypocrite just to boost the other side's narrative.

I am not a person who has bad intentions, it should be made clear with how I'm addressing everything and explaining calmly. I just aim to understand and inform.

Again, you are saying that we need to be "human" and yet you refuse to even speak to or acknowledge the other side. My friend had messaged you on TikTok, and you said that you "knew their intentions" from a message that they sent. How is that treating anybody like a human? you have to realize that you are completely one-sided in this and that is just the truth. You may not see yourself as one-sided, but that is entirely what is happening here. You cannot spread this agenda of us/others needing to act human when you yourself do not listen to your own advice.

In this video it also says I'm associated with Cupidite? And to clear the Cupidite situation? We have lost the plot. I did talk to somebody who I did not know was Cupidite until I asked somebody else, then had a small conversation with them. Nor am I with the UTTP. my friends were contacted by them, not me. I cannot stress this enough. (and even then, they stated to them that they were not UTTP and that Juni and Yummi were spreading lies yet again, take that with a grain of salt.)

BUT, I will say. Juni and Yummi have made it known to me in the past that they have faked being doxxed. And their personal information being leaked, to garner mass sympathy from people online. They have a record of faking things to get more people on their side.

They have told me how they have faked being in an abusive relationship to get more information on Cupidite and to gain his trust. Now THIS is emotional manipulation. They have also told me to lie to others on TikTok that they were getting rape threats from the Chrissy drama to get people off their tail.

They have made me and my friends raid their strawpage so they could post it and make their fans and people who look up to them feel bad about it.

Juni can NOT handle criticism. And has made it known to me he can't. It makes him physically sick to see people criticize him. He would very often send me to do "damage control" in his comment sections and on his server. And by that, that means I take the blame for everything. They knew I'd do anything for them as their friend, and they took 100% advantage of that.

(Multiple people have come to me saying I was used as a scapegoat and I am unsure how much of that is true, if it does seem like that please do tell. Just something I thought I'd add.)

What i dont understand is why its okay for yummi and juni to use the "i got groomed into it" excuse but when people they cover say the same thing, they dont get the same kind of grace. Like obviously that sucks but good lord

CONCLUSION:

Dippy's Conclusive Response:

Please do not take this as me trying to defend myself. I simply want to provide as much context as I can, DO NOT GO AFTER JUNI OR YUMMI, I hope they can successfully get better like we had promised each other before. I have faith in them, I truly do. I just don't like being accused of doxxing them, being the one who spread their SH, having nudes of them?? (I don't know either of their homes, phone numbers, or even streets) And apparently having "adults" in my friend group encourage them to do things. Which just isn't true. The only "Adults" in our friend group is my friend who is barely even 18. My friend is the one who sent everything to this group of people. Then he added me to the group while I was showing him things Yummi said to me because he had asked to see for some reason. I should've asked for his intentions, but I didn't expect he'd do this. I don't know how things even got to this point. I wish nothing but goodlucks to Juni and Yummi. I know they are with each other right now and I hope they continue to keep each other safe and comforted. Even though I am beyond upset and angry, I cannot hate them. They are just people. I wish Yummi luck with his game, his commissions, his animations–and I wish Juni luck with his art, school, and youtube. I'm so sorry things turned out this way, with the slim chance they might see this, I'm sorry.

I am not a victim.

I also do not care about the rape jokes Yummi and Juni made, even if they care and use it as evidence against me for doing the same thing. They experienced trauma of that nature, and they have every right, such as myself, to joke about it. (in closed spaces of course) people are allowed to do that.
